Historical crediting interest rates

Historical Crediting Interest Rate for Universal Life Products

The following table shows the historical crediting interest rates for each universal life product which has new policies issued by Sun Life Hong Kong Limited in the previous 5 calendar years prior to the reporting year. Historical crediting interest rates are determined based on a time-weighted crediting interest rate for a particular calendar year, excluding any one-off bonus interests credited to the policies. Historical crediting interest rates are for reference only and are not indicator of future declaration of our universal life products. The actual crediting interest rates in future may be lower or higher than the historical crediting interest rates shown in the following table.
